I checked in the code but the problem was in the database where already data was available without center and subcenter name, and you trying to upload data with a different- 2 center and subcentre name.

Which is not allowed in code, for this I have to do changes in coding for this data file.

I will do this with few testing so that other related flow remains same.

    //$valid_err=array_unique($valid_err);
}
```
